HOW TO MANAGE

YOUR PARTY

BRING A LITTLE GLEE TO YOUR SUPER BOWL PARTY

This year's Super Bowl will have an extra bit of flair sprinkled on it when a special episode of Glee airs just after the big game. And while football fans may be satisfied with a typical spread of pizza and wings, odds are that Gleeks will want their gathering to have a little more of a flourish. Los Angeles-based party planner Nicole Foos has some tips on how to make a Glee-themed bash extraordinary.

TO DO LIST

☐ INVITATIONS:

It may be the biggest game of the year, but for Glee fans it's still all about the music. So go online and print out or download free musical staff paper, add your party details and send to your friends. You can also create a Facebook event for your party, and invite all your Glee-loving Facebook friends.

☐ PRE-SHOW MIX:

Any good Glee party should start long before kick-off, so while your friends are congregating, keep them entertained with a Glee greatest hits mix.

☐ HALF-TIME ENTERTAINMENT:

No self-respecting Gleek would just sit idly by and watch a musical number. So move the furniture out of the middle of the room, turn on the closed captioning, and create your own karaoke extravaganza by singing along with the Black Eyed Peas when they take to the stage.

☐ QUIZ YOUR FRIENDS:

Every time a flag is thrown on a play, it's time for Glee trivia. Throw on your best Mr. Shue sweater vest, and put your guests to the test! Find trivia questions at fox.com/glee/afterthegame, along with other quizzes that can keep you and your guests occupied during breaks. At the end of the night present the high scorer with the prize of Ultimate Gleek.

☐ PARTY FAVORS:

Inspire your guests to make beautiful music on their own after the party by giving them plastic toy instruments in a "Glee"-themed goody bag.

☐ COSTUMES:

It's not Halloween, but true Gleeks are glad to dress up in costumes any chance they get. So ask your guests to come dressed as their favorite Glee character.

☐ FOOD:

Provide your guests with a cafeteria-style buffet featuring Glee-inspired recipes, and plastic cafeteria trays to enjoy their food on. Check out fox.com/glee/afterthegame for surefire hits like Finn's Grilled Cheesus, Mercedes' Tots and Puck's Potato Latkes. There are even recipes directly from cast members. Did you know Matthew Morrison makes a killer dip with only two ingredients?

☐ DRINKS:

Slushies are a must for a Gleek Super Bowl bash. But make it clear to guests that the icy beverages are for drinking, not throwing!

☐ DECORATIONS:

Turn your living room into a McKinley High School pep rally with red-and-white streamers, pom poms, and balloons. Add a handmade scoreboard to help your fellow Gleeks keep track of the tally.

☐ DESSERT:

Get your friends in on the fun and have an old-fashioned bake sale. Have them sign up in advance so you get the right selection of baked goodies. For good measure, charge your guests $.25 per snack and donate the proceeds to your local high school glee club.
